

- o Applied degree more popular. In the past, 200 to 300 applicants would show up for , now now lucky if 30 or 40 apply.
  - o New trend seems to be coming in with the associate degree and letting department pay for the bachelor s degree.
  - o There has been a shift from undercover or on the street officers to wanting to do for counselling, or probation officers. 50% of classes wanting to go onto SPS spreading out to truly be criminal justice.
- x Does the Kishwaukee College program provide the appropriate level of training required of n employees? What credentials are required for hiring?
- o Attending the police academy and any degree is beneficial for police department.
  - o Usually degree is needed, but applicants get no extra points for degree, dialed back just looking for good people.
